

Call for Submissions 1

"The Best of Singapore Crime Fiction" is an anthology of short crime writing that will be published by Monsoon Books (Singapore) in the second half of 2010.

For this anthology, we are looking for stories of 2,000 to 10,000 words. The stories must all be about crime, in any form. The stories must also be set primarily in Singapore, though there may be short side trips to other places to get the story told.

We are looking for good, solid writing that connects to the readers and keeps them tied to the story from the first sentences to the last.

Payment will be set according to royalties, divided between all the writers in the anthology.

All stories and inquiries should be submitted to krimi.sing@gmail.com. All submissions should arrive by April 10, 2010.
